

4. Four Scriptural examples of changing adolescence:
- (a) The struggle with identity; Jephthah (Judges 11). He found his identity in his friends.
 - (b) The struggle with responsibility; Absalom (2 Samuel 13). He found responsibility difficult because of what he learned at home.
 - (c) The struggle with authority; Josiah. He found his authority in God despite a very bad example from his family.
 - (d) The struggle with conformity; Daniel (Daniel 1). He made up his mind to please the Lord and even his enemies were at peace with him.
5. Some major problems in teenage life:
- (a) Suicide.
 - (b) Pornography.
 - (c) Idols.
 - (d) Television.
 - (e) Drugs.
 - (f) Sexuality.
6. There is absolutely no question that God has high expectations of young people's spirituality. They do not have to wait until adulthood before they can achieve great things for God. Young people mightily used of God in their youth include Joseph, Samuel, Samson, Joash, Uzziah, Josiah, Esther, Daniel, Hannah, Mishael, and Paul's nephew. God is a God of all ages.
